

Health and Society

WASHINGTON
& JEFFERSON
COLLEGE

The Health and Society minor at offers students the opportunity to explore various cultural, legal, ethical, and social factors that influence health and healthcare. This is an interdisciplinary program open to students of all majors but is particularly appropriate for those beginning or completing pre-health studies.

Minor Requirements

Five courses from the following, with no more than two with the same prefix:

- Introduction to Conflict and Resolution Studies (CRS 101)
- Urban and Regional Economics (ECN 309)
- Economics of Poverty and Discrimination (ECN 326)
- Introduction to Gender & Women's Studies (GWS 100)
- Topics in African American History (HIS 275)
- Moral Philosophy (PHL 130)
- Philosophy and Race (PHL 137)
- Philosophy of Science (PHL 225)
- Bioethics (PHL 232)
- Philosophy and Gender (PHL 236)
- Special Topics: Human Rights Theory and Practice (PHL 270)
- Modern State: Health Care Politics (POL 302)
- Public Policy (PPL 213)

- Elementary Psychology II (PSY 102)
- Abnormal Psychology (PSY 245)
- Developmental Psychology (PSY 265)
- Physiological Psychology (PSY 285)
- Health Psychology (PSY 292)
- Adulthood & Aging (PSY 361)
- Drugs and Behavior (PSY 380)
- Spanish for Healthcare Professionals (SPN 311)
- Introduction to Sociology (SOC 101)
- Race and Ethnicity (SOC 241)
- Special Topics: Introduction to Public Health (SOC 247)

Students must also write a paper and give a presentation to the steering committee that summarizes their synthesis and reflection of healthcare influences and determinants.

Program Director

Mark Harris, Ph.D.
mharris@washjeff.edu

Steering Committee

Danielle Ficco, Ph.D.
dficco@washjeff.edu

Anupama Shanmuganathan, Ph.D.
ashanmuganathan@washjeff.edu

Kelly Weixel, Ph.D.
kweixel@washjeff.edu

Michael Wolf, Ph.D.
mwolf@washjeff.edu

Program Website

washjeff.edu/health-and-society